Thank you to all contributors this month.

COMEDY OF ERRORS On Bank Holiday Monday in the Village Hall, Shakespeare's hilarious play was admirably played by touring company Festival Players to an enthusiastic audience, seven men playing all the parts with a perfect blend of slapstick and real acting. It was a pity that the weather prevented the planned performance in Martin and Penny Woodhead's garden. Thanks to the Ickleton Theatre group for organising the event. And as I write, the rain is still sluicing down. Come on September.

COUNTRY MUSIC Weekend Bluegrass Gospel music by The Grass Souls in Ickleton church on Sunday morning 7th September (after the family service) followed by a Bluegrass jam session with them at the Ickleton Lion – bring an instrument and join in! See page 4.

Ickleton Cricket Club's dance the night before is a Country and Western Hoedown! See page 6.

Flooding – The Clerk has been in touch with CCC Highways regarding the flooding at Cemetery Corner and Church Street. They will be asked to clear out the drains at both sites which appeared to be blocked.

Parish Clerk – Replacement: The Chairman, Lewis Duke and Susan Clew had interviewed two strong candidates. After the interviews they had chosen Peta Stevens who has lived in the village in Mill Lane for 18 years. The Chairman proposed that the Councillors accepted their recommendation. All Councillors were in favour of the appointment. Peta Stevens will start at a date to be agreed with a gradual handover.

Allocation of Section 106 Funds: The Parish Council considered further details of the proposed Sports Storage facility from Michael Robinson, together with a presentation from Lucy Davidson proposing the acquisition of three items of equipment for the Play Area. It was decided to divide the funds approximately equally between the two projects. This will use up the whole amount currently held by the Parish Council of £12,320.43.

The balance of funding for the Sports Storage facility will comprise of a substantial contribution from the Cricket Club together with a modest balance from Parish Council funds.

To fully fund the acquisition of new Play Equipment the Parish Council is contributing approx.. £6,000 and subject to reclaiming VAT on the entire amount.

News from the Rectory

In this month of new beginnings (the new school year always means new beginnings to me) we are starting a discussion group: 'Pizza and Hard Questions'. This is a group which meets in people's houses on the second Thursday of the month in the evening, to talk over those difficult issues which people struggle with. The first will be on September 11th at 7.30 pm, where we will discuss 'The right to die'.

Our venue is yet to be firmly fixed (I am writing this in July!), so if you would like to come along, contact me - jessicamartin@virginmedia.com, or consult the website the week before (www.hinkledux.com) for details. Other subjects we will discuss in subsequent months include: why do the innocent suffer, and whether science and religion are opposed. We will treat all our different viewpoints respectfully and approach each issue with open minds and in an atmosphere of mutual warmth and exploration which should give everyone space to feel they can explore views on the topic trustfully. All this and take-away pizza! (so – no cooking...)

Meanwhile, don't forget that our Harvest service is happening in St Peter's at Duxford this year (when did you last see the church exuberant with Harvest decorations?): we'll be singing rounds, baptising a young member of our Sunday school, doing activities with the children around a harvest theme, and rounding it all off with the harvest lunch in the URC. Please do come on September 28th at 11.00 am and join the celebrations!

ICKLETON SOCIETY

Remembrance Talk – “The Great War in the Countryside”, Friday 14 November, 7.30pm in the Village Hall Meeting Room. This is the talk that Helen Harwood was unfortunately unable to give us at our AGM as she went into hospital at short notice. Helen will talk about the impact of the war on rural communities like ours – stories of people such as a village baker who had a "good war" and another about a conscientious objector, the fight between the military and the farmers to try and keep workers on the land, about soldiers billeted locally, bombing raids and being able to hear the guns on the front even here, and lastly the aftermath of the war. Everyone is invited to join us for a talk that will be very fitting for the week of Remembrance Sunday and Armistice Day. The talk is free and will also be of interest to any secondary school children studying WW1.

Panto time is coming! Sort out Christmas presents early this year and buy Panto tickets! Join the Ickleton Society at a Traditional Family Pantomime at the Theatre Royal, Bury St Edmunds. This year's pantomime is Cinderella, by Peter Duncan.

Cinderella and her father live in the dilapidated Hardup Hall helped by the ever-reliable Buttons, and watched over by a Fairy Godmother. Then one day, two greedy stepsisters charge into their world and make things rather unpleasant! But with a glamorous ball on the horizon, and a chance meeting with a handsome stranger in the forest, are Cinderella's fortunes about to change? And can she get home before midnight...?

Renowned for its traditional, fun-filled, family pantos, the Theatre Royal promises to serve up a sparkling festive treat filled with catchy songs, silly jokes, and a sprinkling of magic. Packed with dastardly villains, miraculous mice, swirling dresses and some stupendous slapstick, you're sure to have a ball!

Built in 1819 this Grade 1 listed playhouse is the only surviving example of a Regency theatre in this country – well worth a visit for that reason alone!

Date: Saturday 10th January 2015

Time: 3pm

Discounted Ticket Price: £18.50 per person for non-members (normal price £19.50). A further discount of £1 per ticket for each member of the Society and for families with family membership, a discount of £1 per ticket for each family member. Charity - Cycle Ride and Midnight Walk - in the rain

We would like to thank Nina, our granddaughter, her friends, and Mr Ian Vincent, for their midnight walk in aid of the charity "Tommy's" - for babies - the charity for research into miscarriage and still birth, in memory of our great grandson Zachary who was sadly still-born earlier this year.

They walked the 18 miles on 8th August from Royston to Cambridge in the pouring rain and darkness. We were their support car and they did the walk in under 4 hours.

Also we thank our son Mark and his wife Hazel who cycled 100 miles to Surrey on 10th August – also in pouring rain - in aid of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

With many thanks to all those who sponsored them.

Carol and Barry Turton

HELP NEEDED DOWN AT MILL Hinxton Sundays 7th September and 5th October

More volunteers are needed to help with the monthly open afternoons at the Hinxton Mill, which sits on a site dating back before the Domesday Book. Why not take the remaining opportunities this season to join in.

Once a month from May to October, usually on the first Sunday between 2.30 - 5.30 pm, the mill opens to the public and a team of at least four people are needed.

No experience is necessary and full training is given. Martin Fordham takes on the role of miller.

To find out more contact Philip Robson, Head of Properties and Green Spaces at Cambridge Past Present and Future... Email: properties@cambridgeppf.org Tel: 01223 243830 Extension 205.

Or call in at Miller's Cottage, Mill Lane, Hinxton and have a chat with Sue Elliott.

Or just turn up on the day!
